Report as to dependency of Applicant or of the motherless children upon

Deceased at the time of his death.

The Civic Guard Report states that the Applicant at the time of Deceased's death was receiving a pension from the British Naval Authorities, amounting to Twenty Pounds (£20) per year. For three years prior to his death, the Applicant had no regular employment, and he depended on chance labour. In this case the Applicant is father to Deceased, and he is sixty-two years of age. He is suffering from nerves and he is incapacitated through general debility.

I definitely state that the Applicant was partially dependent on the Deceased at and prior to the time of his death.

The Applicant is a widower since 1904.

He has three children in America; but he receives nothing from them. He has one son married in the house; but he does not support him. He has two other sons in the house; but he states they give him nothing.

He is still receiving the Naval Pension.

He has no other means of support.

The House is a labourer's cottage with a plot of land attached. The house looks neat and comfortable; but as his son's wife is there, she keeps it in this manner.

His children are not dependent on him as they keep themselves.

In my opinion he is not in good circumstances and as far as I can ascertain he has no other source of income. His sons are of a reckless disposition and would be disinclined to support him.

Particulars of Claim made in respect of educational expenditure within the past 12 months.

Appeal

NIL.

Appeal considered on the grounds of special Circumstances. This Volunteer was captured after the Clonmult ambush and subsequently executed. This ambush and encounter was one of the most important engagements which took place in the South of Ireland during the Anglo-Irish War and one which created a profound impression locally. A special appeal was made on behalf of the dependants of those who fell, to recognise their services to the extent of giving their dependants the maximum sum admissible under the Act. This was done in the cases of the following :-

Particulars of any Payment received in compensation from person responsible for the act which caused death of Deceased. (Section 13 (a) of The Army Pensions Act, 1923).

	Original award	increased to
1/D/2 Patrick Ahearne	£ 30	£ 100
